Interns of Architecture to receive results mid-February for the first Examination for Architects in Canada (ExAC)

Toronto, Ont. — We are pleased to announce the results of the new national made-in-Canada examination for Interns of Architecture. The overall pass rate for all sections of the tests, in both the English and French versions, is 89.2 %.

Of the 521 Interns who came from seven different provinces, 399 Interns successfully completed all required sections of the exam.

In development for more than two years, the four part exam focuses on the relevant aspects of the Intern's architectural professional "practical" experience after completion of their university degree. The exam components are geared to measuring the competency of the Intern in relation to undertaking the professional responsibilities of an Architect. The new exam offers an alternative path for Canadian interns to meet professional registration requirements.

The next administration of the ExAC is expected to take place during October 2009. Registration for the 2009 ExAC Administration will open in April 2009.

For current information and the application form Interns of Architecture should view the details on the ExAC Web site www.cexac.ca.
